Exciting e-Catalog Upgrade

The new version of our e-catalog represents the first upgrade to the tool since we introduced it six years ago. The e-catalog now includes page-turner technology, which allows users to actually see the pages turn on the screen as they flip through the e-catalog. This makes the interface more personal, more like the "real thing," than any earlier version of our e-catalog.

Not only that, but the on-screen pages are now larger than ever, for easier viewing. To view different parts of a page when you've zoomed in on it, use the on-screen "hand" (your cursor) to grab and move the page around on the screen. You can do this by clicking and holding the left button on your mouse. This enlarged view allows better focus on the products and the information and pricing contained on each page.

Naturally, the same "bells and whistles" that made previous versions of the e-catalog such a popular tool still exist -- the ability to search by keyword, by manufacturer or by page number, or sending the e-catalog directly to an end-user via e-mail. In addition, new functionality has been added: You can now view thumbnails of each page by clicking the "View Thumbnails" button, or print the current page by using the "Print Page" button. These buttons are part of the navigation row of buttons at the top of the screen. We hope you will take a few minutes to familiarize yourself with the new and improved screen layout, and then begin using the 2009 e-catalog when wish to upgrade existing offices or outfit new offices or facilities.
